RT Tips

- ▲ : stress the words – these words are important
- (happy): say the line with this feeling
- : rising intonation – the character is surprised, excited or happy
- ↘ : falling intonation – the character is sad

Everyday English

The expression 'what do you suggest?' is a useful way to ask for someone's suggestion or to invite someone to share their opinion.

Perform even better

Say it clearly!

When doing readers theatre, you are not just reading a script aloud; you have to read every word clearly. Let's do the following activities and be a better performer!

A. Try to read the following pairs of sentences. Colour the 😊 if you can read them.

1. He has a nice smile.

He has a nice smell.

2. She lives in an ice hotel.

She lives in a nice hotel.

3. Please give me a gift.

Please give me a rest.

4. Don't sit on the pin.

Don't sit on the pan.

5. I like to hear Victoria speak.

I like it here at Victoria Peak.

B. Also practise saying these pairs of words. Do you notice the difference?

1. sit-sat   2. big-bag   3. tin-tan   4. pin-pan   5. fin-fan
